Water has a certain restorative quality to it ... whether gurgling over stones in a brook, cascading over falls, or lapping gently against a sandy shoreline, it soothes and sustains. Similarly, a bath environment can capture the same soothing qualities of water to create a serene, cleansing and healing sanctuary within your home.

PLUNGE in with daring design elements to create a powder room with surprising appeal. Small spaces call for big design details and the oversize legs create a compelling look below the vanity console. A towel bar mounted to the side of the console keeps a hand-towel within easy reach. Offering spacious views from every angle, the beveled mirror coordinates with the cabinetry.

CLEANSE the clutter by selecting bath furniture with spare sensibility. Dura Supreme cabinetry designed as a sleek, simple washstand imbues the powder room with minimalist style. A cobalt blue, vessel sink adds a splash of rejuvenating color to the serene surroundings which are perfectly complemented by the square legs and slatted shelf selected for the washstand.
